As part of your application you need to submit a pitch bible (5 to 10 pages) and a script sample (10 to 15 pages).

N.B. Script sample is optional, but preferred.

A pitch bible details:

- The concept and creative vision for the project
- The major characters and their potential arcs
- The world / setting and the elements that make it unique and distinctive
- The series engine and the shape of a typical episode
- The target audience and the hooks of the show that will engage this audience

In the script sample we're looking for:

- Strong ideas as well as your ability to execute on the page
- If you have an episode script of the proposed project, then you should include this as your sample
- If not, then you should submit 10- 15 script pages that demonstrate how the idea will be realised

Next Stage Development Notes

These notes are a critical analysis of the current creative materials and identify challenges whilst also providing strategies as to how to these issues could be addressed in the next stage/s of development.

These notes are informed by the creative vision for the project and when preparing these notes, you should consider the project within the wider context of the genre and marketplace that it occupies.

For assistance you might like to watch Top Tips For Crafting a Competitive Development Application.

Please upload your development notes ensuring:

- These notes are specific rather than general
- Explain what is working in the current materials and what needs attention - diagnose the weaknesses
- Describe solutions to story issues - how will you “deepen the characters” or “rework the structure”
- Identify the development steps / activities to be undertaken
- These notes should not be a stream of consciousness and we encourage applicants to use subheadings to help demonstrate that the team has a good handle on all aspects of the storytelling - genre, structure, tone, characterisation, plot, story arcs, dialogue, theme etc.

Copyright & Chain of Title

To be eligible for development funding, you must have the rights to develop the project. Here are some things to consider before you submit your funding application:

- Is the project your original work?
- Are you the writer? If not, do you have an agreement with the writer?
- Is the project based on an underlying work (eg. novel, play) written by someone else? If so, do you have the rights to use that work as the basis for the script?
- Do you have an option agreement for any underlying work? If so, does it grant you the exclusive right to:
 - develop the project for at least 12 months after receiving any funding from Film Victoria; and
 - extend the option for at least 12 months?

Underlying work

The project is based on the following underlying work (e.g., novel, stage play, previous drafts of the script):

Please note, projects based on underlying work must have an exclusive option to the rights of that work for at least 12 months from the date of the Film Victoria Development Agreement plus a right to extend for a further 12 months.

- Meaningful on screen representation of diversity in main protagonists, themes and narratives
- Project leadership and Key Creatives
- Industry access and opportunities for training/career progression/mentoring.

Please detail below how your project addresses one or more of the core areas listed above. If your project fails to do so, it is unlikely to be supported. *

First Peoples Content

First Peoples can mean that your project:

- Is based on or includes First Peoples stories
- Has First Peoples characters
- Features representations of First Peoples culture

Film Victoria does not currently support projects with significant First Peoples' content without a member of the key creative team coming from an appropriate background

Does your project contain First Peoples content? *

Yes No

Please provide details of the collaboration and consultation entered into including the names of relevant key creatives, communities and advisors attached to the project. You may be asked to provide agreements relating to research, chain of title, filming permissions etc. *

You may be asked to provide agreements relating to research, consultation etc.

Additional Information

What impact (if any) will COVID-19 restrictions potentially have on your team or your project? Please advise only on those that impact your immediate team or plans - e.g. events you may be unable to incorporate into your plans, transitioning to remote work and so on.
