Completing your application

Before you start your application:

- Read the Guidelines and VicScreen's Terms of Trade.
- Review the online application form.
- Refer to VicScreen's Budget Guide for guidance on available funding.
- Read VicScreen's Gender & Diversity Statement.

VicScreen is committed to promoting and supporting gender equality, diversity and inclusiveness in the Victorian screen industry and requires applicants to demonstrate diversity and inclusion in their applications. We therefore expect that the diversity of your project's content is appropriately reflected in the creative team and/or that integrated and meaningful collaboration occurs from early stages of development. You must also consider whether it is appropriate for your team to include that content and whether the inclusion and expression of the content will be authentic.

If you have any questions, please contact the Grants Officer during business hours (9am to 5pm, Monday to Friday).

Diversity and First Peoples Content

 indicates a required field

Consideration of Diversity

VicScreen is committed to promoting and supporting gender equality, diversity and inclusiveness in the Victorian screen industry and requires applicants to demonstrate diversity and inclusion in their applications. We therefore expect that the diversity of the project's content is appropriately reflected in the creative team and/or that integrated and meaningful collaboration occurs from early stages of development. Also, you must consider whether it is appropriate for your team to include that content and whether the inclusion and expression of the content will be authentic. Applicants are encouraged to refer to our Gender & Diversity Statement.

In the assessment process we will take into account how robustly your application advances diversity across one or more core areas:

- Meaningful on screen representation of diversity in main protagonists, themes and narratives
- Project leadership and Key Creatives
- Industry access and opportunities for training/career progression/mentoring.

If your project fails to do so, it is unlikely to be supported.

Please detail below how your project addresses meaningful on screen representation of diversity in main protagonists, themes and narratives. *

Please detail how your project advances diversity across project leadership and key creatives. *

Please detail how your project enables industry access and opportunities for upskilling/career progression/mentoring. *

First Peoples Content

First Peoples can mean that your project:

- Is based on or includes First Peoples stories
- Has First Peoples characters
- Features representations of First Peoples culture

VicScreen does not currently support projects with significant First Peoples' content without a member of the key creative team coming from an appropriate background

Does your project contain First Peoples content? *

☐ Yes

☐ No

Please provide details of the collaboration and consultation entered into including the names of relevant key creatives, communities and advisors attached to the project. You may be asked to provide agreements relating to research, chain of title, filming permissions etc. *

Next Stage Development Notes

These notes are a critical analysis of the current creative materials and identify challenges whilst also providing strategies as to how to these issues could be addressed in the next stage/s of development.

These notes are informed by the creative vision for the project and should consider the project within the wider context of the genre and marketplace that it occupies.

For assistance you might like to watch Top Tips For Crafting a Competitive Development Application.

Please ensure your development notes:

- Are specific rather than general
- Explain what is working in the current materials and what needs attention – diagnose the weaknesses
- Describe solutions to story issues – how will you “deepen the characters” or “rework the structure”
- Identify the development steps / activities to be undertaken
- Are not stream of consciousness. We encourage applicants to use subheadings to help demonstrate that the team has a good handle on all aspects of the storytelling – genre, structure, tone, characterisation, plot, story arcs, dialogue, theme etc.

To be eligible for development funding, you must have the rights to develop the project. Here are some things to consider before you submit your funding application:

- Is the project your original work?
- Are you the writer? If not, do you have an agreement with the writer?
- Is the project based on an underlying work (eg. novel, stage play) written by someone else? If so, do you have the rights to use that work as the basis for the script?
- Do you have an option agreement for any underlying work? If so, does it grant you the exclusive right to:
